Book Author of
"The Work
Performance:
The Professional
Personality in the Work Environment"

A Saudi ambitious woman who transformed life obstacles into opportunities and successes. My approach to building a professional personality is unique and simple. Always view my clients as strategic partners, and will work interdependently with every partner to design optimal training and facilitation techniques to help achieve their desired goal. Enable my trainees with the right tools through a fun and engaging environment.

My easy to approach nature captures audience in an engaging, yet very professional matter that sharpens skills and creates talent. My purpose is developing the next generation of leaders in the public sector, private sector, education and entrepreneurs in Saudi. My journey in healthcare inspired me to value patients' needs and cater to them in a humanly and personalized matter. I trained and facilitated in numerous industries including banking, education, FMCG, ministries, to name but a few.
